The Gault Nature Reserve is a McGill University field research station located in Mont-Saint-Hilaire in Montérégie. Owned by the University since 1958, it protects more than 1,000 hectares of natural habitats.

Our team supports research and education and offers a range of services for the university community and the public.

Gault has meeting rooms and lodging to suit whatever your group needs, whether for conferences, nature field courses, training or informal meet-ups. You can rent just one of our lodgings, multiple lodgings, or all of them at the same time for a single visit.

THE GAULT HOUSE

The Gault House is the perfect place to host a field course or group event. Your guests will enjoy a comfortable and productive stay in this spacious building.

The Gault House has 10 rooms and can accommodate up to 37 people.

COMMON SPACES

The main room of the house, the grand salon, can be set up however you like. When you rent the Gault House, you also get access to a sitting room, a library, a dining room and a classroom, as well as the lakeside patio with picnic tables and outdoor firepit (patio not available in winter).

There is a fully equipped commercial kitchen for those who wish to cook on site. Access to the kitchen is optional—please refer to the Dining options section for more information

THE CHALETs

Located in the heart of the research area, the chalets are great for informal meetings, field courses or forest retreats. They are the most affordable lodging option, and you can book them with or without the meeting room.

The chalets are three distinct buildings connected by a large deck: two identical chalets and one meeting room. On the chalet grounds are picnic tables and an outdoor fire pit, as well as a barbecue available for rental on request.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Each chalet can accommodate up to 16 people and has four rooms, a kitchen, a sitting room and two bathrooms.

You can rent one or two chalets, with or without the meeting room.

THE COTTAGE

The cottage, located near Lake Hertel, can accommodate four people. It comes with two rooms, a shared bathroom, a sitting room and a fully equipped kitchenette.

RESEARCH INFRASTRUCTURE AND EQUIPMENT

The Gault Nature Reserve has plenty to offer researchers and students. As well as the classroom, visitors can access equipment for scientific research. This includes an experimental dock, small watercraft that can travel on Lake Hertel and a number of laboratories.

If you would like to access this infrastructure for a field course, or if you would like to submit a research project, please fill out this online form.

DINING OPTIONS

Each of our buildings has a fully equipped kitchen where you can prepare your meals as you wish. For added convenience, catering services are also available.

KITCHEN ACCESS:

// Prepare your meals independently in our fully equipped kitchens. You are responsible for washing and putting away the dishes.

CATERING:

// Hot or cold meals delivered on-site

Maison Gault: A member of our team takes care of setting up the buffet and cleaning up.

Chalets: No service staff are provided in the meeting room. The client is responsible for serving and/or reheating the buffet, as well as washing and putting away the dishes.
